QUOTES FROM THE SAINTS OF THE WEEK

Saint Camillus de Lellis

“Commitment is doing what you said you would do, after the feeling you said it in has passed.”

“Think well. Speak well. Do well. These three things, through the mercy of God, will make a man go to Heaven.”

Saint Vincent de Paul

“Humility is nothing but truth, and pride is nothing but lying.”

“Charity is certainly greater than any rule. Moreover, all rules must lead to charity.”

“He who allows himself to be ruled or guided by the lower and animal part of his nature, deserves to be called a beast rather than a man.”

“It ought to be considered a great misfortune, not only for individuals, but also for Houses and Congregations, to have everything in conformity with their wishes; to go on quietly, and to suffer nothing for the love of God. Yes, consider it certain that a person or a Congregation that does not suffer and is applauded by all the world is near a fall.

Saint Jerome Emiliani

“Our goal is God, the source of all good. As we say in our prayer, we are to place our trust in God and in no one else. In His kindness, our Lord wished to strengthen your faith, for without it, as the evangelist points out, Christ could not have performed many of His miracles.”

On St Mary Magdalene

“Most of all I imitate the behaviour of Mary Magdalene, for her amazing – or, rather, loving – audacity which delighted the heart of Jesus, has cast its spell upon mine.” St. Therese of Lisieux

Saint Lawrence of Brindisi

“The word of the Lord is a light for the mind and a fire for the will, so that man may know and love God. For the inner man, who lives through the living grace of God’s Spirit, it is bread and water, but bread sweeter than honey and water better than wine or milk.... It is a weapon against a heart stubbornly entrenched in vice. It is a sword against the flesh, the world and the devil, to destroy every sin”.

“The Holy Spirit sweetens the yoke of the divine law and lightens its weight, so that we may observe God’s commandments with the greatest of ease and even with pleasure.”

“All things are possible for him who believes, more to him who hopes, even more to him who loves.”

Saint Apollinaris

“We therefore grossly deceive ourselves in not allotting more time to the study of divine truths. It is not enough barely to believe them and let our thoughts now and then glance upon them: that knowledge which shows us heaven will not bring us to the possession of it, and will deserve punishments, not rewards, if it remains slight, weak and superficial. By serious and frequent meditation it must be concocted, digested and turned into the nourishment of our affections, before it can be powerful and operative enough to change them and produce the necessary fruit in our lives. For this all the saints affected solitude and retreats from the noise and hurry of the world, as much as their circumstances allowed them.”
